

The Circle of Life

A lonely cocoon
Starts the circle of life,
It's hard to believe
That one beautiful butterfly
Started its journey as a simple caterpillar,
This is just the beginning,
A transformation,
A story.

A single butterfly flies free
From a fragile cocoon,
Spreading its glorious wings
It begins its adventure,
Bringing beauty to our planet,
Such a wonderful creature,
A unique start to life,
A split identity but living as one,
They share the same story
The circle of life,
A continuous quest that travels through time.
